This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

Claims 1-3 are directed to a composition comprising as one of the essential components a silyl group-functionalized polyether (A) having a different structure that depends on the precursors from which it is derived. For instance, claim 4 contemplates that (A) is prepared by hydrosilylation of a polyether derivatized with alkenyl groups with an organosilicon compound bearing Si-H residues. Claim 5 discloses a polymer (A) derived from a hydroxyl group-containing polyether and an organosilicon compound bearing an isocyanate group. (Ostensibly, the isocyanate group is not bonded directly to the silicon atom but the claim does not exclude this possibility.) Claim 6 requires (A) to be formed by reacting a polyether featuring isocyanate-terminal groups and an organosilicon compound bearing amine groups. Finally, claim 7 stipulates that (A) is prepared by reacting a polyether bearing alkenyl moieties with an organosilicon compound containing mercapto groups.

Claims 8-11 and 12-15 further limit claims 2 and 3 respectively in precisely the same fashion as claims 4-7 further limit claim 1. The polymer delineated in claims 4, 8, and 12 represent one species, that in claims 5, 9, and 13 a second species, that in claims 6, 10, and 14 a third species, and that in claims 7, 11, and 15 a fourth species. Each species has different structural attributes, in particular a different organic residue connecting the polyether backbone and the silicon atom by virtue of the different synthetic approaches used to make each embodiment and, hence, would require the employment of different search terms, and possibly subclasses, to find the most relevant prior art.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-3 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Marc S. Zimmer whose telephone number is 571-272-1096. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday 8:00-4:30.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Randy Gulakowski can be reached on 571-272-1302. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
